THE DIRECTOR'S NOTE

The Centre for Studies in Social Sciences, Calcutta (CSSSC), is nationally and internationally recognized as a premier research institution under the Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR). Established on February 1, 1973, the CSSSC entered its fortieth year during 2012-2013, making this past year a special occasion to look back on the four decades over which our institution has consolidated its reputation as a key centre in the promotion and advancement of social research and teaching. The CSSSC can today justifiably take pride in both the individual achievements of its past and present faculty and its many collective academic initiatives - in running conferences, workshops and training programmes; in supervising high-quality research; in building unusual archives for historical and cultural research; in hosting a lively seminar series by its own faculty and by visiting scholars; in conducting social and economic surveys; and in guiding public policy projects.

When I assumed charge as the new Director on April 2, 2012, our institution was undergoing a difficult administrative transition in the absence of a permanent Registrar. We were also hampered by a much-depleted faculty strength, with several vacant sanctioned posts lying unfilled due to unavailability of funds from the ICSSR. The institution is extremely grateful to one of its faculty members, Dr. Saibal Kar (now Associate Professor of Economics) for serving as Registrar (Acting) from March 1 to July 31, 2012 and tiding us through this administrative crisis. It is also fortunate to have the services from August 1, 2012, of a veteran academic administrator, Dr. P.K. Sengupta, ex-Controller of Examinations, Jadavpur University and ex-Registrar, Presidency University, who was appointed for one year to the post of Registrar (Acting) by the Board of Governors, CSSSC.

The most important development of this past academic year has been the directive of the ICSSR, received in June 2013, for filling all the vacant sanctioned academic posts of the institution. Accordingly, an advertisement for the recruitment of new faculty across the different social science disciplines was released in July 2012. In keeping with the requirements of the Sixth Central Pay Commission and its revised pay-scales, the CSSSC undertook the move of converting its posts of Fellows into a two-tiered system of Associate and Assistant Professors, and had this important change in this academic designation of faculty approved in a Special 88th meeting of its Board of Governors on October 16, 2012 - with this corrigendum inserted into its faculty recruitment advertisement, and the last date for the receipt of applications extended into November 2012. Through an elaborate and rigorous process of short-listing of applications and two weeks of job seminars presented by short-listed applicants before seven different Selection Committees that were set up for different social science disciplines, the process of faculty recruitment was completed in January 2013, and all new faculty appointments were ratified by the Board of Governors of the CSSSC in its special 89th meeting convened on January 18, 2013. Through this process of open selection, the following existing members of faculty were absorbed into new posts - at the level of Professors, Dr. Manabi Majumdar became Professor in Political Science and Dr. Rosinka Chaudhuri became Professor in Cultural Studies; at the level of Associate Professors, Dr. Indrajit Mallick and Dr. Saibal Kar became Associate Professors in Economics; and at the level of Assistant Professors, Dr. Anirban Das became a permanent Assistant Professor in Cultural Studies, and Dr. Priya Sangameswaran became a permanent Assistant Professor in Development Studies. These appointments apart, in January 2013, the CSSSC has made offers of appointments for 12 other posts - to 3 Professors in the respective fields of Development Studies, Gender Studies and Cultural Studies; to 1 Associate Professor in Cultural Studies, and to 8 Assistant Professors in the fields of History, Sociology, Economics, Cultural Studies and Gender Studies - which were to be taken up over the next few months.

To have in place again our full faculty strength of 27 Professors, Associate Professors and Assistant Professors, representing the different social sciences disciplines, has been immensely important for the optimum academic functioning of the CSSSC. It has greatly enhanced the different research and teaching activities of the institutions, and opened up new areas of collaborative and interactive academic engagements. We are grateful to the funding from the ICSSR and the Ministry of Human Resource Development of the Government of India, and the Department of Higher Education of the Government of West Bengal that has made it possible for the CSSSC to regain its full faculty strength. The following pages, which include details of the individual research projects, academic activities and publications of the CSSSC's faculty, will show the wide multi-disciplinary range and depth of the institution's intellectual concerns in the humanities and the social sciences.

I am happy to report that the CSSSC's M.Phil. programmes in the Social Sciences, and Ph.D. programme, both of which have been affiliated to Jadavpur University since 2009, are keeping its flags flying high. The number of applications and intakes over the year of M.Phil. as well as Ph.D. students from all over the country reflects the national importance and reputation of the CSSSC's M.Phil. and Ph.D. programmes, and brings on the CSSSC its special responsibility of maintaining its high standards of teaching alongside its mandate of cutting-edge and advanced inter-disciplinary research. The CSSSC's academic profile has also been built up through a variety of projects it has conducted, some funded by external agencies and others that are self-funded or developed in collaboration with research networks. The Centre for Training and Research in Public Finance and Policy (CTRFPF) that was set up within the CSSSC with a generous endowment of the Ministry of Finance during 2011-2012, continued its seminars and workshops, and recruited an Assistant Professor and a Post-doctoral Fellow in Economics to add to the faculty strength of the institution. An earlier endowment of the Reserve Bank of India also continues to greatly benefit the institution, by supporting a Chair and research positions in Economics. Given the multi-disciplinary strengths of the institution, it today attracts a variety of projects and research collaborations, involving individual and joint faculty participation. Broadly speaking, over the last few years, the following areas have merged as major focal areas of specialized project-funded activities – Social Science Research Methods, Social Inequities and Exclusion, Democracy and Governance, Archival Documentation and Dissemination. Many of these projects have augmented the vital role of the CSSSC as a critical interface between academic research and public policy. Some of the externally-funded research projects of the CSSSC have also allowed the institution to take on groups of younger post-doctoral scholars, who contributed richly to its academic calendar of teaching, workshops and seminars.

During the academic year, 2012-2013, the ICSSR launched its special Research Promotion Scheme for all its research institutes, which has been of great benefit to the CSSSC. Under this scheme, the CSSSC was able to appoint two Research Associates for the ongoing work of field-based surveys and archival research and documentation, augment the activities under its M.Phil. and Ph.D. programmes, build its library and archival resources and information data-bases, and host some important workshops and conferences. Among these were the following - (i) a one-day sociology workshop in memory of our dear colleague, Dr. Anjan Ghosh, on "The Place of the Rural in Contemporary India", (ii) a three day international conference on "Feminist Inscriptions in the Social Sciences", and (iii) the 17th edition of the highly-successful Cultural Studies Workshop which the CSSSC has been conducting since 1995. This year, a four-day workshop was convened at Santiniketan from January 24-29 on the theme, "Cultures of Everyday Life".

The CSSSC's special named annual lecture series, the Sakharam Ganesh Deuskar Lectures in Indian History and Culture, was also revived this year after a long gap. Two sets of Deuskar lectures were organised over the last academic year, in quick succession. Prof. Dipesh Chakrabarty, Lawrence A. Kimpton Distinguished Service Professor, University of Chicago, delivered two lectures under this series on February 11 and 12, 2013, on the theme, "Reading Sir Jadunath: Literature and History", "Reading Sir Jadunath: Character as Destiny". Eminent contemporary artist, Vivan Sundaram also agreed to deliver his lectures under this series on the theme, "Where the Railroad Meets the Sea: Fifty Years of Life and Work". The lectures were initially planned for March 2013, but were later rescheduled for April 16 and 17, 2013.

Crucial to the CSSSC's academic reputation are also its library and special archival resources. While its library has one of the best book and journals collections in the field of the contemporary humanities and social sciences, and a large body of official surveys, reports and quantitative data bases, its special archive contains a unique documentation (now almost entirely digitized) of textual and visual material relating to 19th and 20th century Bengal and Eastern India, which serves now as an invaluable source for new forms of research in social and cultural history. The library and archives have also been privileged to acquire, over the years, a rich repository of rare books, journals, newspapers, photographs, commercial art, and the book collection of several eminent scholars. The CSSSC in collaboration with the South Asia Institute, University of Heidelberg started providing unrestricted online access of its partial text archive from March 2013. Much of this material was housed in the CSSSC's precincts at 10 Lake Terrace as a part of the Jadunath Sarkar Centre for Historical Research. The premises are currently undergoing renovation and redesign under a grant under the "Setting Up, Promotion & Strengthening of Regional & Local Museums" Scheme of the Ministry of Culture. This entire collection of the CSSSC's archival and special library holdings are expected to be relocated in the renovated premises at 10 Lake Terrace under the aegis of the newly-named Jadunath Bhavan Museum and Resource Centre (JBM&RC) by 2014. The opening of these renovated premises, with its concentration of the CSSSC's unique library and archival resources in one place and with its additional facilities for exhibitions, conferences and other public programmes, is expected to reinscribe the institution's academic presence in the heart of the city - in a historic location which was the home of the historian Sir Jadunath Sarkar, and the home of the CSSSC from 1973 to 2000.

RESEARCH PROJECTS AT THE CSSSC (FUNDED BY EXTERNAL AGENCIES)

COMPLETED RESEARCH PROJECTS

The CSSSC has undertaken several academic research projects. Some of these are intended to augment the holdings in its archives and to organize academic events around these holdings and promote research. It also undertakes survey based projects and training workshops with a view to developing research capacities. The inter-disciplinary character of the Centre and its faculty has meant that its intervention has been recognized as crucial in developing resources and facilitating research.

1. Endangered Archive Project (262)

Coordinator – Mr. Abhijit Bhattacharya – Endangered Archive Programme of ARCADIA through the British Library

The project titled “Retrieval of two major newspapers: Amrita Bazar Patrika and Jugantar Patrika” was aiming at digitization of all available copies of these two major newspapers in the Centre’s collection. These are invaluable for any study of Indian nationalism and are not available in major or secured collections anywhere. The project, awarded in 2009 was successfully completed on 31st March 2013. Both newspapers are now cued for uploading on the SAVIFA portal. They are already accessible in the reading room of the Centre’s archive.

A major achievement of the project has been to make available all copies of Amrita Bazar Patrika on the World Newspaper Archive with complete text search options. This has been possible by a subsidiary collaborative project of the CSSSC and the Center for Research Libraries, Chicago, hosting the World Newspaper Archive. Access to World Newspaper Archive, however, is not unrestricted and can be viewed only in a subscribed mode. Students, faculty members, staff and members of the CSSSC archive can access the World

Newspaper Archive - South Asia collection from the reading room of the archive and library free of any charge.

2. Minority Concentrated Districts Project

Coordinator - Prof. Jyotsna Jalan

Funded by - Ministry of Minority Affairs, Government of India

The project involved the evaluation of scholarship schemes for minority communities as implemented by the Ministry of Minority Affairs, GOI. This has been completed and the final report has been submitted.

The project also conducted an evaluation of multi-sectoral development programs for minority concentrated districts as implemented by the Ministry of Minority Affairs, GOI. This has been completed and the final report submitted to the Ministry.

3. Subjects of law: rightful selves and legal process in Imperial Britain and the British Empire

Coordinator – Prof. Lakshmi Subramanian.

Funded by – the School of Humanities and Arts, Plymouth University

This project is intended to facilitate research on the subject of law and empire and to initiate a network as well as a series of workshops as preparatory exercises. The network is funded by the Arts and Humanities Research Council, U.K. in collaboration with the University of Plymouth. The CSSSC which is part of this network was given the responsibility of organizing a major international conference (December 2013) on Spaces of Law, the proceedings of which are being published in the form of a special journal issue for the Journal of Colonialism and Colonial History. In organising this seminar, the CSSSC was able to draw on the financial support of the Indian Council of Historical Research.

4. 'Training in New Social Science Research' – Navajbai Ratan Tata Trust (NRTT) Project

Centre for Studies in Social sciences, Calcutta conducted a three-year long Project titled 'Training in New Social science Research" from December 2007 to November 2010 which was partly funded by NRTT. The target-population of the Project consisted of (a) students planning to do Ph.D., (b) doctoral scholars and (c) post-doctoral scholars. The Coordinator of the Project was Prof. Sibaji Bandyopadhyay.

After a rather inordinate delay, the CSSSC received the full amount that was outstanding from the external funder on 19 July 2012. The NRTT project was thus both formally and successfully closed during the financial year 2012-13.

ON-GOING RESEARCH PROJECTS

1. Endangered Archives Project EAP 341

Coordinator – Mr. Abhijit Bhattacharya.

Endangered Archive Programme of ARCADIA through the British Library

The project titled “Rescuing text: retrieval and documentation of printed books and periodicals published prior to 1950 from public institutions in Eastern India,” is an outcome of a previous pilot project, EAP188, awarded in 2008 to survey endangered printed literature available in minor libraries in remote districts of West Bengal. The project, so far digitized about 3,500 books from Mudiali Library, Bankim Bhavan Gabesana Kendra, Naihati, Chandannagar Pustakagar; Bali Sadharan Granthalaya and other places. Officially the project will be completed in December 2013. Most of the material has been digitized apart from some minor committed work in the district of Nadia, a total of 3,500 books will be made available when completed in the CSSSC’s reading room and uploaded on the SAVIFA portal.

2. Political Change in Rural West Bengal

Coordinators – Dr. Dwaipayan Bhattacharyya and Prof. Manabi Majumdar

Funded by - the Indian Statistical Institute

Under the project, a re-survey of a few villages studied earlier was made. Ethnographic fieldwork for this research has been completed during this year and currently the process of analyzing and writing up the research findings is in progress.

3. Asymmetric Demography, Financial System Architecture and Financial Integration

Coordinators – Dr. Pranab Kr Das and Dr. Saibal Kar

Funded by – the Centro de Estudios de Estado y Sociedad (CEDES), Argentina and IDRC, Canada

The objective of the study is to offer an empirical analysis of the process of demographic transition, evolution of the financial system and the extent of financial integration in India. The demographic transition in the countries of the developing world is quite asymmetric compared to what the countries in the North witness. While several comparative analyses on the subject try to identify the sources of such asymmetry and its consequences, the present research initiative is quite distinct in the sense that it relates such developments to the financial architecture in the South.

4. Project Evaluation of the MNREGA for 12 districts in Bihar and Jharkhand

Coordinator – Dr. Saibal Kar.

Funded by - Programme Evaluation Office, Planning Commission of India

This field survey-based research involves impact evaluation of the state of implementation of the NREGA schemes (both ongoing and completed) in 12 districts of Bihar (08) and Jharkhand (04) in India. The survey work has been completed for a number of districts in Bihar and shall continue over the next year. The results so far are quite encouraging, schemes appear to have benefited a large number of individuals in places like Bhagalpur, Madhubani, etc.

5. Research study cum paper on the Evaluation of State Finance with Respect to West Bengal

Coordinator – Prof. Sugata Marjit

Funded by - Fourteenth Finance Commission, Government of India

6. DFID Project

Coordinator – Prof. Sugata Marjit.

Funded by – University of Exeter Business School (U.K.)

The project involves field experiment on the behavioural foundations of inter-group discrimination and its effects on public good provision in India.

7. Projects/Research Publications funded by the RBI Endowment Fund

1. Cross Border Mergers in Vertically Related Industries with A. Chakrabarty and H. Beladi (accepted for the European Economic Review)
2. International Oligopoly, Barriers to Outsourcing and Domestic Employment, with S. Bandyopadhyay and L. Yang (accepted for the Canadian Journal of Economics)
3. Profits Entry and Social Welfare with Arijit Mukherjee (published in Economic Modelling)

Much of the vitality of the Centre's academic life is supported and sustained by the research of its faculty members. This has been a distinguishing feature of the Centre's academic life since its inception and has been instrumental in its exceptional inputs to the various disciplines it represents. The Centre runs a regular faculty series seminar and reading group that encourages lively and periodic intellectual exchanges among faculty members. It encourages faculty members to collaborate with other institutions in India and overseas to organize joint seminars and workshops. It allows faculty to share their research interests and expertise and undertake teaching and supervision in other institutions in India and overseas. Additionally, the faculty assumes important administrative responsibilities in connection with academic programmes and research activities in the Centre.

The following section details the current research and teaching activities as well as individual research projects and administrative responsibilities undertaken by the faculty. Details of research interest and academic publications of the CSSSC's faculty, including those of recently appointed faculty members may be found in the CSSSC's website.

Ongoing Academic and Research Activities

- Writing a book, provisionally titled, Three Essays on the Mahābhārata: A Study in Literary-political Hermeneutics.
- The book will contain three essays. Their topics are:
 - (a) The Gītā -saying karmaṇy evā 'dhikāras te mā phaleṣu (2.47) and the politics of translation;

Next, it will attempt to analyse how far Bengali literature has succeeded in marshalling this aspect for creating special poetic effects. In the second part of the enquiry the chief protagonist will be Rabindranath Thakur.

- Working towards the third edition of Alibabar Guptabhandar.

The new edition will have two long additional essays and a few short pieces. The topics will range from the politics of sanitization of Baul Principles to the ideological ramifications of the suppression of the 'comic' by authoritarian power-systems.

Completed and On-going Academic and Research Activities

- Currently completing the book manuscript on social democratic governance in West Bengal. The book attempts to trace the emergence of some specific governmental principles over more than three decades of Left rule with their vital effects not just in reshaping the state's rural social sphere, but also in changing the possibilities inherent in leftwing political imagination in India's postcolonial democracy. The book will include themes such as: the emergence of 'government as practice' in West Bengal, the character and consequences of agrarian mediations by the Left, the domains of informal interaction in the making of local politics, the schoolteachers as political agents of the Left, the changing nature of social politics in rural West Bengal, and the collapse of the Left's hegemony in the course of peasant resistance to government's land acquisition policies in Singur and Nandigram.
- Apart from this, the project on 'ethnography of political change in rural West Bengal' is still underway. This project is a continuation of earlier work in rural West Bengal (2005-06) that traced the organization of political and social exchanges through the decentralized administrative institutions, viz., the village panchayat. This involves re-visiting the villages in North 24-Parganas and Bardhaman and mark out the social, economic and political changes that have taken place in the intervening years. Both these districts have experienced rapid migration and urbanization, commercialization and an explosion of services in the informal economy. The aim of the ongoing research is to locate changes brought about by such transformations producing new meanings for what is 'local' and what is 'rural' in present West Bengal politics.

- Planning a thematic review on the issues of democracy and economic development in the long 1970s as part of a research cum teaching programme in the University of Goettingen. The intervening period between the decline of the 'Congress system' in the mid-1970s and the rise of the non-Congress political coalitions in the late 1970s offer an interesting phase for both 'deepening' of social democracy as well as concentration of executive power in the form of the Emergency rule. The conflicting tendencies were panning out when an ultra-populist developmental state had its last decade of dominance waiting to be disrupted by a combined wave of neoliberal economic policies, powerful regional mobilizations (Punjab, Assam and then Kashmir), and the Hindutva communal forces from the mid-to-late-1980s.
- Planning a long essay on rural changes in West Bengal as part of an analysis of the field-materials collected as part of our project 'Ethnography of political change in rural West Bengal'.

[New title: Re-forming Water: Neoliberalism at Work in Maharashtra, India; Old title: Re-forming development through water reforms].

Ongoing and New Academic and Research Activities

Short studies/essays on the following topics (drawing partly on work done earlier):

- Changing ideas of nature in cities and contestations over the boundaries between land and water.
- Use the question of what is involved in attempts to commodify water to complicate debates about commodification of nature.

Plans to start a new project comparing changes in land laws being undertaken in the rural and the urban (using Maharashtra as a case study) and how these relate to the efficiency and equity justifications of older land reforms. It hopes to locate the changes in land laws with respect to larger developments in the rural and the urban (new kinds of agrarian questions and patterns of urban development respectively).

ACADEMIC EVENTS HELD AT CSSSC FROM 1 APRIL 2012 TO 31 MARCH 2013

The Centre maintains an active seminar series in addition to housing a number of conferences and workshops. Several of these workshops form projects undertaken by the Centre while others include presentations of work by faculty members. Additionally, the Centre welcomes visiting academics to present their work thereby ensuring a lively academic calendar. The annual presentations of doctoral students also forms an important part of the Centre's academic calendar.

Two major international conferences were organised in December 2012 and February 2013 while the annual Cultural Studies Workshop was revived after a year's break in January 2013.

Spaces of Law: Territories, Boundaries, Corridors and Beyond – three-day International Workshop

The workshop Spaces of Law was jointly organised by the Centre for Studies in Social Sciences, Calcutta and the University of Plymouth Research Network on 11-13 December 2012. It was funded by the University of Plymouth Research Network and by the Indian Council of Historical Research (ICHR) with supplementary support by the Centre. It emerged as part of an older conversation around the importance of deepening an emerging historiography on law and empire on the one hand and on space and representation of legal regimes on the other.

Originally planned for two days, the workshop spilled over to a third day. The format that was used was to pre-circulate papers to designated discussants who initiated the discussion. This not merely enabled a structured conversation but was able to tie up papers of a particular panel. The panels themselves were organised around thematic issues which did not necessarily follow a chronological order but which addressed some of the principal concerns that animated the workshop. The workshop as its introductory note made clear, tried to adopt a spatial approach to the study of the regimes of law, its dynamics and its conversations with local pragmatics, custom and practices within the broad framework of empire, colony and post colony. It looked at litigation practices that stretched across unusual geographies, at technologies of power and governmentality in defining and containing regions and borderlands, at the very nature and constitutive elements of law and regulation, at court ethnographies and the workings of Islamic law. A number of broad themes emerged and it was generally felt that the workshop proceedings could make up a coherent volume.

The workshop came together primarily as a response to call for papers. It enjoyed a healthy mix of senior academics with young and middle level researchers and the result was a workshop of unusually high quality and feedback. It was also decided to post a blog that would be regularly updated. The convenors resolved that the conversation could be sustained through the group and which could further plans for the third conference proposed under the joint network for the next year (2014).

17th Cultural Studies Workshop

The 17th Cultural Studies Workshop (CSW) organized by the Centre for Studies in Social Sciences, Calcutta (CSSSC) was held at Santiniketan, West Bengal from 25 to 29 January 2013. The theme for this year was Cultures of Everyday Life. The Workshop was funded partly through the Cultural Functions Grants Scheme (CFGs) of the Ministry of Culture, Government of India and partly by the Eastern Regional Centre of the Indian Council for Social Sciences Research (ERC-ICSSR). The remaining required funds were made available by the CSSSC itself. Dr Manas Ray functioned as the coordinator of the Workshop. The other members of the Workshop Committee were: Prof Tapati Guha-Thakurta, Prof Lakshmi Subramaniam, Prof Partha Chatterjee, Prof Rosinka Chaudhuri, Dr Dwaipayan Bhattacharyya and Dr Anirban Das. Ms Kavita Bhowal looked after the administrative functions of the Workshop in the capacity of Programme Assistant.

The Theme: Cultures of Everyday Life

Drawing on a tradition of scholarship of thinkers like Henri Lefebvre, Michel de Certeau and Pierre Bourdieu, recent decades have witnessed remarkable advances in understanding the ordinary, repetitive life of the everyday. This is largely due to the coming closer of different disciplines of the Humanities and the Social Sciences, and the parallel rise of Cultural Studies as a new mode of producing and organizing knowledge. The 17th Cultural Studies Workshop proposed to participate in these explorations of the intellectual, cultural and political aspects of the everyday and broaden their scope by throwing light on different features of contemporary Indian life. It discussed the specificities of the everyday as a temporal and spatial category; the myriad strategies of contestation, governmentality and claims to citizenship as they work out at an everyday, micrological level; the dispersal of power and the texture of affect; the gendered realities of the everyday; the effects of commodification upon cultural practices; everyday objects and technologies, and the discursive and semiotic registers of the everyday in literary and aesthetic activities.

The Workshop was intended to give young researchers an opportunity to share their work with some of the faculty of the CSSSC and other senior scholars in the field. Over the years, the Workshop has played a key institutional role in the emergence of Cultural Studies as a discipline and concerns itself with the broader issues of social sciences and humanities today as viewed from a cultural studies perspective. It was aimed at doctoral and postdoctoral students and young lecturers (below the age of 35) whose ongoing or recently completed work focuses on one or more of the issues listed above. They presented a paper based on their research at the workshop.

The call for proposal saw a very substantive response. There was a total of 123 applications. These were subject to a fairly rigorous selection process taken up by a sub-committee set up for the same. The morning session of each day was devoted to faculty presentations based on a select number of readings. Under the anchorage of this year's theme, each session was addressed to a specific topic. The two speakers and the chair spoke for half an hour each. The chair had the additional duty of conducting the question-answer session. The topics of this year were:

Day 1 – Theorizing the Everyday – Speakers: Udaya Kumar (Senior Fellow, Nehru Memorial Museum and Library, New Delhi) and Sibaji Bandyopadhyay (Professor of Cultural Studies, CSSSC) & chaired by Dr Manas Ray (Associate Professor of Cultural Studies, CSSSC)

Day 2 – Quotidian Histories – Speakers: Pradip Kumar Datta (Professor of Political Science, University of Delhi) and Bodhisattva Kar (Senior Lecturer in the Department of Historical Studies at the University of Cape Town) Chaired by Partha Chatterjee (Honorary Professor of CSSSC and Professor of Anthropology, Columbia University).

Day 3 – The Everyday State – Speakers: Aditya Nigam (Professor, Centre for the Study in Developing Societies) and Dwaipayan Bhattacharyya (Associate Professor of Political Sciences, CSSSC) & chaired by Professor Partha Chatterjee.

Day 4 – Regimes of Representation – Speakers: Sambuddha Sen (Professor of English, University of Delhi) and Rosinka Chaudhuri (Professor of Cultural Studies, CSSSC) and chaired by Tapati Guha-Thakurta (Director and Professor of History, CSSSC).

The workshop followed the usual format of readings and discussions in the morning and student presentations in the afternoon session. The format worked well as resource persons in the morning led the discussions on the key readings for an hour and a half after which the floor was open for discussion for an hour allowing ample time for participants to intervene and engage in an extended dialogue on the theme and readings of the morning. The feedback suggests that the participants felt that the morning sessions worked particularly well although some thought that it could have been longer.

The pre-lunch session included one paper presentation by participants followed by four more after lunch. Each participant was given twenty minutes to make the presentation. This was followed by the comments of a discussant specifically assigned and then a general discussion on the paper for half an hour. In most cases, participants felt that discussants had taken a lot of care and attention and had opened up the discussion in a constructive way and offered new departures. Many participants were of the view that never before they had such extensive discussion on their research topic.

The Workshop involved four days of intense but stimulating deliberations. On the evening of the second day a party was organized that provided gaiety, much needed for the exhausting schedule of the workshop. The workshop provided a perfect platform for participants from different parts of the country and background to interact and make strong academic and social connections. This came out in the feedback session that was organized after the workshop. Between Day 2 and Day 3 of the Workshop was the break-day when arrangements were made for visit to Visvabharati and also sightseeing in and around Santiniketan. Those interested visited Rabindra Bhavana (Tagore's museum), Kala Bhavan (Department of Art and Sculpture), Sriniketan (Department of Cottage Industry). Some also made a trip to Amar Kutir, an institute of handicrafts, Khoai and other nearby places of interest.

The open feedback session raised some issues regarding the structuring and format of the workshop. It was almost universally acknowledged that the morning sessions were excellent and insightful and helped participants clarify their own understanding. There was hardly any reservation expressed about the readings of the morning sessions, although a couple of participants felt that it would have been better if these were circulated earlier. There was also a specific recommendation for small group discussion sessions around specific readings that would facilitate more interaction among the participants.

Almost all participants felt very positive about the experience. Virtually every single participant felt that the discussions on their specific paper were extremely helpful and wanted these sent to them in a recorded format. They hoped that the connections they had made would be followed up even after the workshop was over.

All the participants registered their deep appreciation of the efforts made by the organizers of the workshop, in particular to Kavita Bhowal (Programme Assistant), Dilip Saha (Administration) and to Dr. Manas Ray (Coordinator).

*An international conference
"Feminist Inscriptions in Social Theory"*

The Conference was organized by: The Centre for Studies in Social Sciences, Calcutta in collaboration with ICSSR (Indian Council of Social Science Research) and ICPR (Indian Council of Philosophical Research) on 22-24 February 2013.

The conference, jointly convened by Dr. Anirban Das (CSSSC) and Dr. Ritu Sen Chaudhuri (West Bengal State University) provided a forum for both young scholars as well as established academics to present their views. The conference organizers are considering the publication of the proceedings in the form of an edited volume.

One of the principal concerns of the conference was to revisit theory as a critical component in the articulation of contemporary social science disciplines, especially in the field of gender and feminism. With this view, the conference addressed the field of theory across the disciplines of social sciences and philosophical humanities from the vantage point of feminist concerns. The conference responded to the disquiet being felt by many that the social sciences, in a seemingly 'post-theoretical' turn, has moved the focus away from 'theory' to a 'rich' archive of events and phenomena. In this turn, self-reflexivity is taken for granted (knowingly or unknowingly) and thus the task of thinking through the reflections is often ignored (sometimes not thought to be necessary and more often subjected to a predictable cursory gloss). In the negotiations of social theory with feminisms, this turn repeats a number of earlier problems. It reduces the import of feminism to a contextual perspective attending the causes of women. This reduction in certain ways renders feminist perspective as something to be added on as and when needed. As a result, feminist theorists often restrict themselves to issues primarily concerning women or different sexualities or at best marginality in general. The aim of this conference therefore was to address this impasse through a rethinking of feminist concerns in social theory.

ARCHIVES & LIBRARY

HITESH RANJAN SANYAL MEMORIAL ARCHIVES

The Hitesh Ranjan Sanyal Memorial Collection, Urban History Documentation Archives at the CSSSC play a vital role in strengthening its profile as a major resource centre of the country. Served by a committed and trained staff, it maintains and engaged in developing a repository of valuable digitized textual and visual collections. Several members of the Archive take a keen interest in archive related research activities.

One more addition of the year is appointment of two new Technical Assistants at the Archive, one post marked only for the Archive and other shared with the Library. This appointment increases the staff strength of the Archive that is expected to increase productivity at the archive.

In January 2013, under the Research Promotion Scheme of the ICSSR, Ms. Indira Biswas was appointed to the CSSSC Archive as a research associate for a year. She has been working towards the creation of a searchable database of visual material, particularly that of commercial art and advertisements. During 2012-13, another important development has been the setting up of a separate account to be named as the Archive Support Fund (ASF) which was started with a generous donation made by Prof. Partha Chatterjee (Honorary Professor at the CSSSC). Over this period of time, the Archive followed a policy of extending its technical expertise to other institutions for helping them with digitization of photographs and texts from their collection. In this process a good fund was raised for the ASF during the past year. The generation of this fund enabled the archive to buy equipments and carry out various documentation and digitization activities of its own. About 107 researchers and scholars have taken membership of the archive in the year apart from the M.Phil. and Ph.D. students of the CSSSC. In 2012 and 2013 at least 110 researchers consulted various resources at the CSSSC Archive.

Academic/Professional activities of Archive staff

One landmark project of digitization of two major newspaper with full financial support of the Endangered Archives Programme has been completed this year under the supervision of the Directed of the Project, Mr. Abhijit Bhattacharya, Documentation Officer at the HRS Memorial Archies. These two newspapers, Jugantar (1937 – 1980) and Amrita Bazar Patrika (1870 – 1949) are now available in digital format and will eventually be hosted at the SAVIFA portal of the University of Heidelberg. Another significant achievement of the year is uploading content of Amrita Bazar Patrika from 1870 – 1922 on the World Newspaper Archives in collaboration with Center for Research Libraries, Chicago. On WNA site the newspaper is available in fully searchable format, though the access policy of WNA is not unrestricted and available to academic institutes only on basis of subscription, however, the members of faculty, students, staff and registered archive and library users can access the archive from the computers connected to the local area network of the institute.

New digitisation of rare books from remote area libraries under auspices of the Endangered Archives Programme (EAP341) started from this year and so far about 2500 unique titles in terms of availability in global repository have been digitised mainly from Bankim Bhavan Gabesana Kendra, Naihati, Mudiali Public Library, Chandannagar Pustakagar, Chandannagar, Hooghly and Bally Sadharan Granthagar, Bally.

Besides documentation, Mr. Abhijit Bhattacharya with Professor Hans Harder of South Asia Institute are engaged for the CSSSC – South Asia Institute, University of Heidelberg collaboration for providing visibility to the archive of the CSSSC through SAVIFA portal. So far, 213 titles of Bengali periodicals, 3 Assamese language periodicals, 86 titles of early Bengali books and 19 titles of English language books from British India have been uploaded to the portal, and still about 1000 periodical titles and two major newspaper titles are cued for uploading.

As part of reach out programme, Mr. Abhijit Bhattacharya has taken part in a meeting cum workshop of Connecting South Asian Archives of HRI South Asia, Kathmandu in Bangalore on 28th and 29th July 2012 and delivered a talk on “What to keep, what not: Preferences and deviation from archival practices in academic institutions”.

CSSSC LIBRARY & JSRC

The CSSSC Main Library

The CSSSC Library is cruising smoothly with its mandate of serving the Social Science Researchers & Academicians with the resources it has collected over last 40 years since its inception in 1973. With the sea-change in library service beginning with the physical form of reading materials to collection, maintenance & delivery of information, the service component became extremely challenging. Never-the-less, the expectation & demand of the users have undergone significant changes in the backdrop of cyber technology.

Resources

Books

During the year, the Library acquired altogether 517 books of which 259 books through purchase & nearly equal number (258) of books were acquired through gift. The total numbers of acquired books are almost equal to those of last year except in one aspect, while gifted books constituted to around 26% of total acquisition last year, this year it is almost 50% of the total acquisition. Nearly 85% of such gifted books were received from a single source and most of them are recently published books on Social Sciences from leading Publishing houses from India & abroad. The acquisition includes 53 Government Reports in the form of both hard & soft copy materials.

Journals

The Library subscribed to altogether 170 journals comprising 102 foreign & 68 Indian titles. Library also retained subscription to 4

Indian & 2 Foreign databases. The Library received 30 journals as gift or on exchange. 19 of such journals are Indian and 11 were foreign journals.

Reports

During the year 50 Government Reports were acquired in both hard & soft copy format.

World Bank Depository

As a depository Library of the World Bank, the Library received 27 materials of which three were in CDs. Since we maintain specific forms for requisition & usage of World Bank materials, it was estimated that during the year, 86 users consulted World Bank Materials; 2028 pages of photocopies were made out of World Bank materials. It was further recorded that besides statistical reports, two specific materials, one on "Designing of Household Survey" & "Disease Control Priorities" were extensively photocopied.

Services

The CSSSC Library in its capacity of a Hybrid Library served 2376 outside users. Among them 59 came from foreign institutions. Besides, 106 outside users from different parts of India & abroad used the Library for a specific period of time. Out of these users, 28 were Foreign Scholars and 78 were Indian scholars from various universities/ institutions outside West Bengal. They were allowed for consultation of Library resources for a temporary period of time ranging from One week (64%) to Six weeks (36%). A new form was devised to accommodate such temporary users for a prescheduled fixed period. Altogether 214 new users were recorded in this year.

From this year, the Library started maintaining users' profile and in this exercise, a few interesting features relating to users' community was observed while rendering services to them. A fairly large number of users mostly comprising young scholars approached the Library for Materials & Methodologies on Survey oriented Research, especially designing of household survey for field studies, sample size determinations etc. As per record, 37 users (16 from Indian Universities/ Academic institutes, 12 from Corporate/Consultancy firms & 09 from foreign institutions) approached for similar materials in this area. Another field of interest was Environment related issues. 26 users approached for materials related to this aspect, 30 users had common approach for materials on Development related Displacements, 29 users came for materials on Disease Burden & Public Health related issues. During discussion, it was learnt that such requirements were either for Doctoral Research or for Project oriented research funded by various organizations. Though the Resource Centre is closed, still, eight books were issued to internal users and 42 old books were bound &/or repaired.

JADUNATH BHAVAN MUSEUM & RESOURCE CENTRE (JBM & RC)

The CSSSC had applied to the Ministry of Culture, GOI, for the setting up of a museum, archive and a historical resource centre at its older premises at 10 Lake Terrace, in the name of the eminent historian, Sir Jadunath Sarkar, who once resided in this house, from whose family the property came via the West Bengal Government to the CSSSC. The CSSSC's functioned out of the historic location of Jadunath Bhavan, 10 Lake Terrace, for the first 27 years of its existence, until it moved to its campus at Baishnabhata Patuli in March 2000. Thereafter, in 2004 the Jadunath Sarkar Centre for Historical Research was set up there in 2004 to house the full Bengali and vernacular language collections of the CSSSC, along with a repository of rare books, newspapers and scholar book donations. The office of the Eastern Regional Centre (ERC) of the ICSSR (Indian Council for Social science Research) also then began to function out of those premises.

Notification of grant from the Ministry of Culture, Government of India

In December 2010, CSSSC was notified by the Ministry of Culture, GOI, that a grant of Rs.304.03 lakhs has been sanctioned to the CSSSC for the application submitted under the Ministry's "Setting up of a small museum" scheme. The grant was divided into two parts – 60% for the renovation, upgradation and redesigning of the precincts on 10 Lake Terrace; 40% for the setting up of the museum and resource centre. The formal grant letter was received in January 2011, and the first instalment of the grant was received at the end of March 2011.

Renovation work at Jadunath Bhavan

On 4 May 2012, the ICSSR- ERC vacated Jadunath Bhavan and shifted their office to their new building at CSSSC's B.P.

Township campus. Subsequent to this, on 16 May 2012, the authorities of CSSSC had officially handed over the premises at Jadunath Bhavan to M/s I D Construction to start with the renovation work. A major portion of the intended renovation work has been completed during the years 2012 and early 2013 and it is expected that the renovated museum precincts will be inaugurated by 2014 as the Jadunath Bhavan Museum and Resource Centre.

AFFILIATION TO SCHOLARS FROM OTHER ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS

The Centre extends affiliation to a number of visiting scholars who apply for such affiliation. This involves no financial responsibility on the part of the Centre. Affiliation for most American students is routed through the American Institute for Indian Studies. Affiliated scholars are requested to pay Rs. 5000 for a period of six months and Rs. 10,000 for a period exceeding six months.

The affiliation is mutually beneficial. Most of the scholars are also assigned a specific member of the faculty who takes the responsibility of extending academic cooperation. The scholar is encouraged to present his research before the faculty. Additionally some of them work closely on collaborative research with the Centre's faculty. In some cases, they also offer valuable teaching assistance to the academic programmes at the Centre.

The following scholars were given affiliation between April 2012-March 2013 :

- Dylan Lowry, Ithaca College, New York.
- Madhumati Dutta, Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, Bengal Engineering and Science University, Sibpur.
- Dana "Coco" Vonnegut.
- Douglas McGetchin, FAU Peace Studies Programme, Florida State University.
- Andrew Otis, University of Rochester, U.S.A.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To

The Members of

CENTRE FOR STUDIES IN SOCIAL SCIENCES, CALCUTTA

R-1, Baishnabghata Patuli Township

Kolkata 700 094

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Centre for Studies in Social Sciences, Calcutta (Centre) which comprise of the Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2013, and the Statement of Income and Expenditure and Receipts and Payments for the year ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance of the Centre. This responsibility includes the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. Those Standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Centre's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances.

An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of the accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Qualified Opinion

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us and subject to the following observations:

- (i) Provisions of Gratuity and Leave encashment have not been made on accrual basis which is a deviation from the Accounting Standard 15 issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.
- (ii) A credit balance under the head Sales Tax amounting to Rs.19,268.00 is appearing under the head "Sales tax" and shown as "Current Liability" in the books of Centre for a long time. The reason for such credit balance could not be explained to us.
- (iii) Provident Fund liability of Rs. 2,25,292.02 is outstanding for a long time under the head "Current Liabilities and Provisions" as on 31.03.2013. Steps should be taken to settle the Liability.

- (iv) Provident Fund contributions of the employees and the employer are transferred to Centre's Contributory Provident Fund maintained for this purpose and all settlements are made from the said account. The aforesaid Provident Fund is not a separate body and is managed by the Centre, which should be reviewed by the management to fall in line with the extant regulations.
- (v) Gratuity Fund is managed by the Centre and not by a separate body created by the Centre. The Centre should consider creating a separate entity to manage the Fund amount and discharge its obligation by regular contribution or should consider to enter into an arrangement with Life Insurance Corporation of India for proper assessment of its liability and funding the same; the financial statements give the required information and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India:
- (a) in the case of the Balance Sheet, of the state of affairs of the Centre as at 31st March 2013;
 - (b) in the case of the Statement of Income & Expenditure, of the deficit for the year ended on that date; and
 - (c) in the case of the Receipts & Payments, of the amount received and payments made during the year ended on that date.

SCHEDULE 25 – SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1.1 Statement of compliance

The Financial Statements have been prepared in accordance with and comply with the Financial Regulations and accepted accounting policies.

1.2 Basis of preparation

The Financial Statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention.

Preparation of the Financial Statements requires the use of estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period, to the extent applicable. Although these estimates are based on management's best knowledge of current events and actions, actual results ultimately may differ from those estimates and the original estimates and assumptions will be modified as appropriate in the year in which the circumstances change.

1.3 Restricted/unrestricted Grants

The Financial Statements are prepared after taking into consideration the nature of Grants i.e. Restricted and Unrestricted. Restricted grants are those grants, Contributions from Donors, where the donors have imposed restrictions on the purposes for which they may be used. Unrestricted grants are those grants where there are no externally imposed restrictions.

1.4 Foreign Currency Translation

The contributions from Donors are directly received by Centre from time to time and converted at the prevalent exchange rates. Local contributions received and the expenses incurred are in Indian Rupees. Accordingly, the books and records are maintained in Indian Rupees.

Assets and Liabilities at the year-end are shown in Indian Rupee as per Books of Account.

1.5 Revenue and Expenditure Recognition

Income and expenses are generally accounted for on accrual basis except for employee's benefits and insurance claims lodged but not settled by the concerned authorities. Grants from issuing authorities have been recognized on accrual basis.

1.6 Cash and cash equivalents

The Centre considers cash on hand and amounts due from banks to be cash and cash equivalents including Fixed Deposit.

1.7 Accounts Receivable

Receivables are stated at original amount less provision made for impairment of these receivables. A provision for impairment is made when there is objective evidence that the Centre will not be able to collect all amounts due according to the original terms of the receivables.

1.8 Inventories

Cost of materials purchased during the year is charged off in the accounts of related projects. Unutilized stocks at the year-end are physically verified and valued at cost by the management for control purpose and recorded in a Register.

1.9 Fixed assets

The cost of Capital Assets purchased during the year are recorded in the Fixed Assets Register. Fixed Assets are stated at cost of acquisition inclusive of inward freight, duties & taxes and incidental charges and direct expenses related to acquisition.

1.10 Fixed assets – Depreciation

Depreciation on assets is charged at the rates prescribed by the Companies Act, 1956, excepting periodicals, which are fully depreciated.

1.11 Impairment

Management reviews impairment loss of assets, if any, and appropriate adjustment are made in the accounts.

SCHEDULE 26 – CONTINGENT LIABILITIES AND NOTES ON ACCOUNTS

1. Contingent Liabilities

Claims against the entity not acknowledge as debts.
Rs. Nil (Previous Year Rs. Nil)

2. Current Assets, Loans and Advances

In the opinion of the management, the current assets, loans and advances have a value on realization in the ordinary courses of business, equal at least to the aggregate amount shown in the Balance Sheet.

3. Prior Period Adjustment Accounts

During the year under review, the management has scrutinised various non-moving balances in the books lying outstanding for a very long period of time. Consequently, it has been found out that certain debit and credit entries in the books, which are neither payable nor receivable, since the same are lying dormant for long and have no validity at present. Accordingly the following amounts have been adjusted in the books in 2012-2013:-

- a) Rs.91.71 lakhs shown as Unsecured Loans and Borrowings, being unadjusted amount of grants received in earlier years, is written back.
- b) Gratuity is paid to the retiring employees by the center on cash basis every year through the Death-Cum-Retirement Gratuity Fund, maintained for the purpose. Accordingly, the provision of Rs.33.93 lakhs made in the year 2001-2002 and held in the books is no longer required and written back during the year.
- c) Leave Encashment amount is paid to the employees by the Centre on Cash Basis every year. Accordingly, the provision of Rs.54.07 lakhs made in the year 2002-2003 and held in the books is no longer required and written back during the year.

- d) Outstanding balances of completed projects, utilized by the Centre and lying in books for many years, amounting to Rs.204.73 lakhs have been duly adjusted during the year.
- e) Grants receivable from various sources amounting to Rs.377.55 lakhs and appearing in the books for many years are not realisable and accordingly written off during the year.

4. Provision for Doubtful Receivables

Rs. 91.53 lakhs, being matching grant receivable from Government of West Bengal, appears to be doubtful of recovery and necessary provision/adjustment for the same has been made in the accounts.

5. Taxation

In view of there being no taxable income under Income Tax Act, 1961, no provision for income tax has been considered necessary.

- 6. Depreciation on Fixed Assets has been provided following straight-line method at the rates prescribed by the Companies Act, 1956 excepting "Periodicals" which is fully depreciated.
- 7. In terms of directives of Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India dt 30th November 2010 revision of pay scale as recommended by 6th Central Pay Commission was implemented by the Centre. However, anomaly in pay fixation resulting in short payment of Rs.90,38,876/- up to 30.09.2012 to certain Faculty Members has taken place. The said amount has been claimed from ICSSR, New Delhi and Government of West Bengal and will be accounted for and paid to the Faculty Members as and when sanctioned and cleared by the ICSSR and Government of West Bengal. From 01.10.2012 correct amount is being disbursed to the Faculty Members.

8. Corresponding figures for the previous years have been regrouped/rearranged, wherever necessary.
9. Schedules 1 to 26 are annexed to and form an integral part of the Balance Sheet as at 31.03.2013 and the Income and Expenditure Accounts for the year ended on that date.
